Afinety Attends GLA ALA Labor Law Seminar

LOS ANGELES (January 22, 2005)

Afinety attends Greater LA ALA Labor Law Seminar in Los Angeles, continuing support for the legal administrator member organization and their firms. The GLA ALA is the third largest chapter in the country. GLA ALA sponsored events offer continuing education opportunities that enhance the competency and professional capabilities of legal administrators. The Labor Law Seminar featured Richard Simmons, a noted labor law speaker and author.

Afinety showcased their standardized network solutions for small businesses and delivered up to date technology information to ALA members while demonstrating the advantages of the remotely managed Afinety Fortress network. Afinety provides IT solutions and support to a large portion of the GLA ALA member firms. Relationships with ALA members are central to Afinety's continuing growth strategy.

Based in Los Angeles California, Afinety is the premier provider of automated computer networks for small businesses. Afinety sells and supports "standardized" computer networks. Industry leading hardware and software solutions are fully enabled through our proprietary automation process. Proactive monitoring and remote technical support minimize costly on-site visits and decrease our clients' reliance on internal IT functions. This unique integrated approach ensures cost efficiency, optimal performance and reliability.
